“ I met Tiny on his first ANA summer seminar. It was immediately clear what a gem he was. I recall his enthusiasm about the YN program and his subsequent contributions are both legendary and substantial. He will be missed by many.

“ I am saddened to hear about the passing of Tiny. I met him at the ANA summer seminar and he was one of the first people I met when I arrived at the Colorado Springs Airport for the seminar in 2005. He was a fixture at the summer seminar and I was a passenger in golf cart he drove quite often. I got to know Tiny and always enjoyed talking to him. He will be missed.

“ I knew Tiny from the American Numismatic Association summer seminars where for the couple of decades I was there he maintained a larger than life presence and was one of the best known personalities. His mantra was to be upbeat and helpful. Once he learned your interest, he would find you out days or even years later and present you with some surprise he had found that was right up your ally. As one small example, a couple of years ago he found a large book at the ANA book sale that he knew would be my cut of tea, purchased it, lugged it around for a week before I could get there, and handed it to me upon my arrival. Trivial as that may seem, it was but the tip of the iceberg as he unselfishly and reliably shuttled people about for the two-week duration of those seminars, talked up the various courses, introduced people so they could connect if he knew they shared a common interest, and supported the young numismatics in every way he could. His wife was his dear companion and he brought her with him so they both could share and enjoy those times together, and, of course, he was truly devastated when she died. I prided myself that he had the time to pay a bit of attention to me through all those years and even attend my class and seminars.

“ I think the absolute world of Dan “tiny” Cross. He went out of his way to connect with Hootie and I when we joined Southern Hills Baptist Church and quickly became a good friend we looked forward to visiting with. My heart breaks knowing we won't be sitting behind him in the sanctuary anymore, but it also rejoices in knowing he is with Christ. He loved the Lord and his life was evident of that. I hope heaven has lots of coin shows for you to enjoy, and don't worry, I'll do my best to keep Hootie in line you always told me to.

“ I was heartbroken when I read this. We were sitting at McDonald's a few weeks ago and Dan was there. We had a wonderful visit. He remembered us and all about my family. My Dad has been gone almost twenty years. Dan was so faithful to come and visit with him. So hard to believe, we just seen him. Dan and Dad will have a wonderful visit. Love to all the family, Delbert and Louise Stokes

“ Seeing "Tiny" was always a highlight of the annual Summer Seminar at Colorado College. He was such a sweet guy, and we had many great times during those warm evenings at the "Lunar Lounge" patio, where both students and instructors gathered to socialize after class. His devotion to making the seminar an inviting experience for all will be remembered by all who knew him.

“ I attended the 2019 ANA Summer Seminar while recovering from hip surgery, and rode a lot with Tiny. Until then, I'd only known him to say "Hi". It was a delight to get to know him this year. What a kind and genuine man.

“ When i received a scholarship from the MPCFest to attend the numismatic course at the 2010 ANA Summer Seminar, I was due to have my knees replaced due to acute arthritis. I could not have traveled between the dormitory, cafeteria building, the building where seminars took place and where other activities took place in the evenings. He came and picked me up every morning and drove me to the Mess Hall, then to the seminar, to lunch, back to the seminar, for dinner and back to the dormitory. And he did this faithfully for five days. I could not have walked the distance and could not have done without him. I called him regularly monthly for the next ten years to exchange pleasantries with him. I will never forget his help, kindness and fun side. I have a photo of him sitting on the gold cart as well as other photos I took of him.

“ My fondest memory of Tiny involves two Young numismatists, Adrew Chipman and Roxanne Pittman each standing in a leg of his bib overalls as the participants of the auction both laughed and bid for the furtherance of the program. Tiny you will be long remembered by me and others. Rick Ewing
