

Dan Wray Cochran

August 1, 1934 - October 18, 2020

Dan Wray Cochran was born to Wray and Mabel Cochran in Eldon, Missouri on August 1, 1934.

He graduated from Eldon High School in 1952, serving as senior class president; Received the B.A. degree from the University of Missouri in Psychology, Philosophy and Sociology in 1956; Earned the B.D. degree from New Orleans Baptist Seminary in 1959; Awarded the Th.M degree from Southwestern Baptist Seminary in 1963 and the Th.D in Philosophy of Religion in 1966; Attended post-graduate studies at the University of Texas, the University of Virginia and Oxford University.

Dan married Roberta (Bobbie) Perkins in 1953. Daughter Dana Jo was born in 1954; daughter Kimberly Dee was born in 1959. Dana then married Gary Lynch in 1974, to whom was born Adam Lynch and Andrew Lynch. Kim married Michael Stewart, to whom was born Joshua Stewart, Tyler Wray Stewart and Lyndsay Maze. To the family tree was added great-grandchildren Josie Maze, Wyatt Maze, Elizabeth (Lizzy) Lynch and Eleanor (Ella) Lynch.

He pastored Baptist churches in Texas and Missouri for nine years while pursuing advanced degrees. In 1966, Dr. Cochran began a thirty-nine-year service at Southwest Baptist University in Bolivar, Missouri as the first chairman of the Philosophy department, teaching twenty-one different courses (including Jan-terms). Responding to student needs, frequently he offered special elective courses on philosophy of religion, existentialism, religious fads, and C. S. Lewis.

In the educational field he was elected for a term as president of the Southwestern Association of Baptist Teachers of Religion. Twice he was selected by SBU students as the Distinguished Teacher of the Year. He also received the Governor's Award for Excellence in Teaching.

As a teenager he enjoyed playing semi-pro baseball, pitching two high school conference championships, and being voted by state sportswriters as a member of the All-State High School Basketball Team in Missouri (1952). The academic and athletic awards were a reminder that he had overcome an early childhood illness of "sleeping sickness."

After retirement in 2005 he continued to watch SBU athletics and play golf until a heart condition slowed him down. He always savored special times with family and friends.

Faith was the absolute basis for his life and college teaching. In fact, he accepted faith as the starting point for all knowledge. All science, religion, and the arts begin in an experience of faith. The understanding comes later by asking questions. We learn that better answers result primarily from better questions. This process is known by the classical phrase, "faith seeking understanding."

Memorial Contributions may be made to the Redford College of Theology and Ministry at Southwest Baptist University.

Due to the current pandemic the family will be having a private family graveside service at the Greenwood Cemetery in Bolivar, MO.

“ Dr. Cochran's profound influence in my life cannot be overstated. The classes I took under him impacted the way I think, learn, and live to this day. His desire to help his students think deeply and keep our lives centered on the Lord challenged us all to become more thoughtful and generous people. His life shone for Christ in every way and I am better for knowing him. My deepest sympathy and fervent prayers to his precious family.

“ I am so sorry to hear of Dan's passing. My sincere condolences to Bobbie, as well to Kim and Dana and their families. Dan was so kind, thoughtful and caring. He touched so many lives in a positive way. One of my favorite memories was when my daughter, Mary Nell Koon was a young girl. She and Emily Hacker lived across the street from one another and just a few houses from Dan and Bobbie. Dan always left his shoes outside next to the door before he went into the house. Mary Nell and Emily would put rocks in Dan's shoes and then ring the doorbell. They would hide and watch him find the rocks. He always acted surprised, just to delight the girls. Dan told me that was one of his favorite things to do. What a wonderful, kind and loving person. RIP Dan Cochran.

“ I graduated from SBU in 2002 he was my advisor, philosophy teacher and a great supporter of our tennis team. Last time I saw him was about 8 years ago when I brought my family to campus. He gave us a tour of all the new athletic facilities. Can't believe he still remembered me after those years. Great great man.

“ Dr. Cochran was one of my favorite professors of all time. I enjoyed all of his classes, and I loved his C.S. Lewis class over Jan term. He always challenged and encouraged me. He was a great man who lived a selfless life. I was inspired by his compassion and his willingness to call out the best in his students. I hope I can be more like him. I feel so honored to have known him and sat under his teaching.

“ Sadden to learn of the death of Dr. Cochran. He was a favorite professor of mine and thousands of other SBU alumni. He taught me how to ask better questions, and to tolerate not knowing while always seeking better understanding. I took 12 hours of philosophy courses under him, and loved every second. I became an existential psychologist partially inspired by what I learned from him. My wife sometimes gets aggravated with me for constantly asking, "Why?" You can blame Dr. Dan for that. Prayers and condolences to Bobby and the family.

“ I was a teen when Dr. Cochran pastored Crocker Baptist Church in the early 60s. He became a role model for me and strongly influenced by calling and choice of ministry as a vocation. I have retired after serving ten years as a pastor; twenty-nine years as a hospital chaplain and twenty-two years as an Army chaplain serving National Guard and Reserve units.

I will always be grateful for his profound influence and send my condolences and prayers for Roberta, Dana, Kim and families.

“ I was a philosophy minor at SBU, which means I took every class Dr. Cochran taught while I was there! I think about him often. Just yesterday, in fact. His delivery. The challenge of his words. His lecture about asking the right question. His story about how he hated philosophy which is why he made it his doctorate: to make his weakness his strength. His smile! His faith, and how it survived the challenges of secular philosophy. And of course the epic C.S. Lewis Jan-term class. I'm sure I'm not alone when I say he was one of the most influential people in their college experience, if not their entire lives. Rather than miss him, I know I will see him again!

Prayers for his family, who loaned Dr. Cochran's time out to students like me.

“ My sympathies to Bobbie and the Stewart and Lynch families. He was such an admiral man - a man of faith, a consensus citizen, and a loving father and grandfather. He lived the life that many of us aspire to live.

“ The Cochrans were the first SBU faculty to invite me into their home for a meal. They invited the whole cast of the first SBU Theatre production of which I was a part. Throughout my college career I continued to receive Dr. Dan's affirmation, usually through kind words spoken, when I would participate in campus activities. I've always appreciated his being one of my balcony people.

“ I am so sorry for your loss, which is Heaven's gain. What a wonderful man Dr. Cochran was. He was so kind, thoughtful and caring and touched so many lives. He never failed to ask me about Valary when we met - usually at the grocery store! Please accept my deepest condolences. Praying for the family.

“Of all the SBU faculty I knew, no one touched my life more than Dr. Dan. His gentle words, his generous gifts of time and apple fritters, his love for C.S. Lewis -- so many interactions with him that I will always cherish. So grateful that God brought him into my life. He was my hero. Sending prayers to his family. Thanks for sharing him with me.

“When I was a young undergraduate student, Dan purchased a book for me ("If Aristotle Ran General Motors"), given my interest in philosophy. Though we never had a class today, we had wonderful conversations in his office. Love from our household.
