Herman Walter Enggram, of Bolivar, went to be with the Lord, Friday, March 10, 2017, at Colonial Springs Rehabilitation Clinic several weeks short of his 93rd birthday. The son of Herman B. and Cecelia E. Enggram, he was born on April 26, 1924 in Chicago, Illinois.

After graduating from high school, he was drafted into the United States Army. Following basic training, he was assigned as the driver for the Battalion Commander of the 423rd Regiment where he refurbished an old Jeep he fondly named "Chop-Chop." He arrived in England on the Queen Elizabeth in October 1944; in December, his division crossed over into Belgium where he participated in the Battle of the Bulge. He was captured on Dec. 19, 1944 and taken to Stalag IXB for internment. After six months, he and the thousands of other POW's were liberated in June 1945.

Upon release, he was honorably discharged and received the Purple Heart along with other meritorious awards. He returned home to Illinois where he married Rose Ann Lavicka on Sept. 29, 1945. There he apprenticed at a local tool-and-die and later worked for the Illinois Bell Telephone Company where he became a section chief. He retired in 1982, ultimately settling in Bolivar, Missouri in 1988. He is preceded in death by his parents, step-brother Richard, and wife Rose. He is survived by his sisters Betty and LaVerne; his three children Glen Enggram, Sue Dalzell, and Paul Enggram; and four

“ I met Herm and Rose about 19 years ago when I joined the food co-op that they were a part of. Over the years I grew to know and love both of them. When our daughter Anna was in a college journalism class, she asked Herm if she could interview him. He agreed to do that and we had a wonderful visit with him and learned many things about his life that we hadn't known before. As an added bonus, Herm took out his accordion and played for us. What a treat that was!

Every once in a while I would bump into Herm while shopping in Wal Mart. He would stop and visit for a while, always asking about my husband and children. I will remember Herm as a man full of energy with a zest for life, a man who loved the Lord and His Word.

We are sorry for your loss and we pray that God will continue to give you peace and strengthen you in the days ahead. May you find joy and comfort in knowing that Herm is with the Lord.

Dear Trudy and Rob,

My sincerest apologies for this tardy response to your warm and heartfelt remarks about Dad and Mom.

I remember my folks telling us about you being in the co-op with them and about his interview with your daughter. Dad was higher than a kite that Anna asked him for the interview, and since he was never at a loss for words, I'm sure Anna took more notes and faster than her fingers could fly!

Thank you for your kind sentiments shared about Dad. We are encouraged by your prayers for our family and want you to know they have and continue to be answered. These last two months, God has given us the peace and strength we've needed, and we have found the comfort and joy you spoke of realizing that Dad is forever home with the Lord.

We appreciate you both and are grateful for your friendship to our parents.

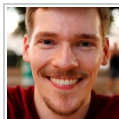

*With thanks,
Sue Dalzell (daughter)*

“ We enjoyed Hermann....We live in the house he had built & supervised while being built for he and the wife he dearly loved. He drove out by every once in awhile before his health failed him.

Thank you for your kind comments, Jackie and Sharon. Just curious, which house is it? Grandpa built several homes throughout his life.
