“ I am deeply saddened to have read the obituary for Joyce online today. I met Joyce quite a few years back when I was working in Education at CMH. I visited the clinic that she was working in at the time to place an AED there, and she and I struck up a conversation about the importance of the device. I met her again at the CMH Cancer Center while my Dad was being treated for cancer (he lost his battle as well), and Joyce was still the smiling and joyful woman that I had known years ago. My thoughts and prayers to the family.
