“ Oh Robbin, my heart hurts for you. I am so sorry you are having to go thru this. They just didn't read the fine print that said we get to go first. A parent should never have to bury their child. You will always be in my heart. Have a fire in the yard and invite his friends over to talk. They will have some wonderful stories to shock you with. Little do they know, we wrote the book.

“ Justin was and always will be a special part of my life and career as a teacher. I truly enjoyed the conversations that we used to have when he was in school and when would come by the school after he graduated. He was one student that I loved being around. He brought a lot of excitement to my life. I am so sorry for your loss. He will be missed greatly. Justin, as well as your family, will always be in my prayers.
