“ In 1981-82 I had the pleasure to be Kim's High School Principal and Basketball coach at Fair Play High School. I remember Kim well. She was a highly talented athlete and gifted basketball player. No one played the game harder or put as much into the game as Kim did. She gave it all she had every game; often ending the game laying on the court too exhausted to walk off. Kim would play hard even when she was not feeling well or was dealing with pain. Several times we would help her up and take her home after a game to her Mom. The next day she would be back in school going full blast and ready for practice. She was a truly wonderful and beautiful person both on and off the court and it was an honor to have known her.
