“ Coy was much more than a friend to me.. but I can't decide if he was more like my brother from another mother, or like the Son I never had. I met Coy when he took the CERT class that I was teaching and then joined our local CERT Team. Coy was a kind and gentle man, whose heart was quite literally 4 times bigger than anyone else's that I know. He never hesitated to help me out any time that I asked, in fact he was often the very first one to offer. He never hesitated to make me laugh during those days of completing a project side by side, and he never ceased making me proud... proud of what he had learned, proud of what he knew... proud of how much he loved his family and proud to be called his friend. He is gone FAR too soon. Ashley and family, I know you are feeling his loss so deeply, please know that if you need anything, all you have to do is ask.
