“ To the Vest family: Please accept my sincere sympathy for the death of Ricky. I will always remember how he would come to the street on which I live and plow off the snow/ice every year...He always was very cheerful no matter how nasty the weather conditions were!! The other residents in this area truly appreciated his wonderful attitude and his help! His newspaper obituary states he was a friend to everybody he knew and that is the truth!!! We were very sorry to know he was so ill shortly before his death. He is with God now...someday each of you will be reunited with one another.
