“ I just wanted to share my deepest condolences with your family at this time of sorrow. We all should be compelled to remember what your loved one was like and all the love she gave, at a time like this. We also would do well to reflect on what name they made for themselves as she lived her life. It is often hard to remember this when our heart is filled with such grief. From the full life Mrs. Sanders led: from her youth, education, marriage with her husband, many children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren...I am sure she didn't lack for finding happy times to reflect on. I am very sorry to hear of your loss and may your family know that our family sends our love to you and that you are in our thoughts through this difficult time. Much love, Gretchen & Jimmy
