

William Allen Brown

January 31, 1948 - January 19, 2025

William Allen Brown, born on January 31, 1948, in Missouri, passed away on January 19, 2025, in Fairplay, MO. Known affectionately as Allen, he was a kindhearted individual who brought smiles to those around him throughout his life.

Allen dedicated 32 years of his professional life to D.F.A Mid Am, where he was respected and admired by his colleagues. He was a loving father to his son, Matthew, and his daughter Angela, as well as a proud grandfather to his grandson, Josh. He shared many loving years with his late wife, Terry Ann, and found solace in the thought of going home to be with her in heaven.

Allen was a devoted dog lover, often saying that nothing made him happier than the companionship of his furry friend. He had a unique way of connecting with people, always willing to lend a hand and never uttering a bad word about anyone. He was one of those that made others smile, reflecting his own gentle spirit.

He is survived by his sister and will be deeply missed by family and friends who knew him as a person who always asked twice if he wanted the answer to be yes. Allen's impact on the lives of others was profound; he will be remembered for his warm smile and the kindness he shared with all.

“ I will always remember Allan as a great, fun to be around guy. So glad I got to visit with him and Claris and Matt when I was there a couple of years ago. The best times growing up were visiting cousins.

“ To Allen's family & friend's; I am genuinely & sincerely remorseful to learn of cousin Allen's passing & I'm certain that he will be greatly missed in the Fair Play community. Although I had not seen or visited with him in many year's, I can still vividly remember many of the wonderful time's that we enjoyed as family during our younger year's. Although I will not be able to attend the services, I extend my most sincerest of condolences to the family & may God extend His loving mercy to all.
